Southside Students Excel At 'Sax In The City' Contest

By Rudy Purificato
 South San Antonio Chamber of Commerce

Southside students dominated the competition during the culinary and visual arts competition at the South San Antonio Chamber of Commerce's inaugural 'Sax in the City' jazz festival held Oct. 9 at the Red Berry Mansion.

This annual event is designed as a mentoring venue for Bexar County students pursuing careers in music, culinary and visual arts. Professionals from the fields of Latino jazz, cuisine and visual arts supported this one-of-a-kind initiative.

Edgewood Independent School District senior Melissa Conner was one of two student visual artists to be selected for a special art exhibit at the Blue Star Contemporary Art Complex based on her work displayed during this South Chamber event. "It's been a great partnership between mentors and students," said South Chamber board member Andrew Anguiano. He said Bill Fitzgibbon with Blue Star judged Conner's work as among the best of 13 students from Edgewood ISD, San Antonio ISD and San Antonio College. SAC art student Fernando Andrade was the other artist recognized by Fitzgibbon for his artistic talents. Andrade and Conner will be showcased soon in a special Blue Star exhibition of their work.
