

Team,

As you may know, October is Energy Action Month across the DoD. Energy is a part of everything we do and we each have a role in ensuring the Air Force meets its energy goals in order to fly, fight, and win in air, space and cyberspace.

Energy Action Month is a time for us all to think about how energy impacts our daily lives, the lives of our families and our ability to accomplish our mission. To help in that effort, our (wing/base/unit/squadron) will be holding energy activities throughout the month including:
